Publishing and sharing a Fectar space

Before others can experience your Fectar space, it must be published and shared. Sharing will not give editing rights. Only viewing rights.

Visibility settings, which define if and how your space can be found, can be made private again at any time in the future.

Publishing a Fectar space

1. Open the Fectar space you want to share.
2. Click the Share -button.

3. Add a subtitle, description, primary and secondary categories and thumbnail images as desired. The thumbnails don't have to be the exact size requested, they can also be bigger. If you add an image bigger than required, you'll be asked to choose a part of the image.

Sharing a Fectar space

You can share a link or a QR code to your space. A QR code is good when you want to people to find your space without having to type a web address, e.g. by scanning a printed paper. For more information on opening spaces, read and share to your students, the Opening a Fectar space -guide.

We recommend to only use the Fectar app options, not the ARView options. The ARView options are all available via the Fectar app.

1. Open the Fectar space you want to share.
2. Click the Share -button.

3. Copy the link from the Space sharing -area by clicking the copy-icon next to the link, or save the QR code by right-clicking the QR code and then click the Save image as... -button. The QR code will be saved as an image file and can be added to Word documents, etc.
